Product description

Crankcase purge test kit.
For the initial leak test of the piston / cylinder system, without the need disassembling candles or injectors.
Especially for trucks.
A highly sensitive pressure gauge can detect the minimum pressure created in crankcase, which is undesirable and on the basis of which the diagnostician can pre-determine the degree of disability (wear) of the engine.
Mass
- 0-10 mbar gauge (1mbar = 1cm water column) with a hose connection
- glycerine manometer 0-1bar
- connection hose with a pressure grip with a rubber cone
- spare rubber cones with different diameters
